DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 19 and 20 –21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 19 directs non functional information on a medium . Since the non-functional information do not provide any functional relationship to medium to control the medium and /or accessing information from the medium, or impart to any structural software and hardware components to provide a function that is processed by a computer, the information on a medium do not make themselves statutory .See MPEP 2100 Further, it is noted that the recitation “auxiliary information for use by a reproducing apparatus is a intended use since claim does not specify any means or circuit used for reading the auxiliary information, using the auxiliary information for controlling and accessing the modified transport stream from the medium . Further it is noted that claim 19 directs to non- functional information on a medium, not to an apparatus .

Claims 20 -21direct a nonfunctional signal which is a mere energy wave form . See MPEP 2100 . It is noted that claims 20 –21 do not specify any means or circuits used for generating the modified transport stream, auxiliary information, audio-visual program, recording the modified transport stream, auxiliary information, audio-visual
